

NEWSBRIEFS

From Accra, Veronica Addae reports on a very good mission to Ghana's central region, armed with Faith Cassettes as well as other tapes and literature. She tells of getting 25 children together for Sunday morning and Monday evening meetings to listen to the tapes and hear about the Lord. She writes, "I just can't hide what your support in prayer is doing for me.....since I gave my burdens unto the shoulders of the Circle of Power, my load is now so light." Again she wrote, "My daughter of 10 is seriously ill with jaundice." Two weeks later she wrote, "My daughter is now free from her sickness." Praise the Lord.

From Yankomam-Enchi, member Gabriel Biechman Aidoo writes. "God has done something miraculous for me. Since I put my trust in Jesus through The Foundation Faith of God a year ago He has taken all my burdens and problems to the Cross, where he died to save many." Amen.

Rev. Samuel K. Nenyewode, who has started a Foundation Faith Ministry in Kumasi, writes, "Everything necessary for the newly founded ministry to be recognized by my government and the world at large is completed, i.e. registration of church, land and property. May I request your prayers for this new ministry for its success and usefulness to the service

LETTERS

Dear Raphael,

When you were in Chicago I was pregnant. I had pneumonia during my pregnancy (two episodes), had cracked ribs from coughing, difficulty breathing, was on several different medications, and needless to say, I was very sick and very worried about the baby.

Anyway, Angela is 10 and a half weeks old now. She was born 10 lbs 3 oz, and very healthy. She is still healthy and I feel great. Jim and Angela and I are a happy family.

I thank the Lord for blessing me with all this, and thank you very much.

A special thank you to . . . Lilac the Clown and her friends for their participation in our pet therapy program. Our residents love this activity, as it reaches so many on a one-to-one basis.

of the Lord and mankind." Amen, Samuel.

HAITI: Rev. Bernadel Dalton writes to report that he, his family and the orphans they care for survived the recent overthrow of "Baby Doc" Duvalier. He feels the coup was an answer to prayer, and that while the dictator is no longer there to plunder his country's resources that because of the devastated state Duvalier left the country in, funds, food and clothes will be needed for some time to come. Anything that can be sent to help Rev. Dalton feed the orphans should be sent to: Rev. Bernadel Dalton, P.O. Box 11208, Carrefour, Haiti, West Indies.

He answered: "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind; and, Love your neighbor as yourself."

NEWSBRIEFS

LOCAL

Tamara Townsend clearly believes that the Easter Bunny's lap is the best place to be!

CLOWN MINISTRY: Apart from the clowns' busy regular schedule, a number of special events have kept everyone on their toes!

Lilac (Rev. Grace Michaels) and Fuzzy (Kim Friesen) took turns as the Easter Bunny at Nevada Association for the Handicapped's (NAH) Easter Bazaar with great success, and both the Las Vegas Review-Journal and the Las Vegas Sun carried pictures of the Easter Bunny doing her thing!

April and May saw Lilac participating in the "Campscouts" program which involved addressing 2-3 classes in four local elementary schools to encourage the children to be involved in community work. As a result, each class is electing a representative to visit Charleston Residential Hotel (one of the nursing homes at which Rev. Abigail Johns conducts the Pet Therapy program) and take the residents a project the children have made. "Campscouts" is a joint effort of the Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls, and Lilac included in her presentation of the ministry's work some of the songs and magic tricks performed in the institutions, and some of the children remembered them from their own times in local institutions.

Brother Peter Williams has been working with the disadvantaged children at Lorenzi Park Adaptive Recreation Center. On May 3, Lilac, Liz Bradley (Abuelita - means "Little Grandmother" in Spanish) and Paul Tarr (Super Klutz) took part in their fund-raising carnival. Helping the team was the Explorer Scout Troop, "Security Police EX" sponsored by Nellis A.F.B., and led by Charles Fennel and Darwin Cody, dressed in Sherry Hammon's beautiful animal costumes. Praise God, Lorenzi Park raised the support they needed.

May 10 saw the clowns, led by Lilac, at Child Fair, an informational fair to educate parents about children's health concern at the YMCA. Liz Bradley and the Explorer Scouts, again dressed as animals, made up a strong showing.

Of the many hundreds of children the clowns visit on a regular basis, we want to mention just a couple. Both were serious cases requiring long-term hospitalization, and both have received regular visits at University Medical Center by Very Tall Fortune Cookie (Rev. Raphael de Peyer) and Lilac. Kenny, a 3 year old, with very serious burns fell in love with McNutt, Cookie's squirrel puppet. It was love at first sight, and we are very happy to report that Kenny is now home and well. Marcella, an 11 year old, was virtually comatose when the clowns first saw her, brain-damaged as the result of an accident. At first she gave little sign of knowing anyone was even there, and the clowns simply left her toys to attract her attention and sang to her. As the weeks went by she showed signs of understanding what was going on around her, and Lilac started selecting toys that had therapeutic value such as a musical box with a string she had to pull, magnetic letters and a board so she could communicate and so on. Now she is fully conscious, smiling, winking, eating on her own, and getting stronger all the time. Her progress is quite remarkable. Thank God for His healing power and great medical care.

Chief (Isidro Gonzales) brings a lot of happiness to these youngsters at NAH.

Our special thanks to our growing band of volunteers, not only those mentioned above, but also Rick Morgan and Melissa Snow. You are all invaluable. Our gratitude, too, for Sherry Hammon's wonderful animal costumes.

PET THERAPY: The animals, Teddy, Pippin, Yin and Yang, under Rev. Abigail John's guidance, continue to bring a great deal of pleasure to all nine nursing homes they visit. The ladies like the smaller dogs, Yin and Yang as they can cuddle them in their laps, and the fellas prefer the bigger dogs, so everyone is happy!

Clowns Giggles (Rev. Abigail Johns) and Lilac (Rev. Grace Michaels) introduce Yang to a senior at Beverly Manor.

NATIONAL & INTERNATIONAL

ATLANTA: Bob and Margery Keller have been heavily involved in Animal Action work. Margery, who is Atlanta Co-ordinator for Mobilization for Animals, gave a strong address at a U.S. Fish and Wildlife hearing at the State Capitol in Atlanta. Bob and Margery report that while animals rights people outnumbered hunters and trappers by a least 5 to 1, our prayers are needed because the hunters and trappers have a tight network and are sure to have been instructed to lobby Washington. Currently experiments with pesticides and herbicides are conducted, killing wildlife, and hunters and trappers are allowed in the refuges. An Environmental Impact Statement team is currently tabulating response as a result of nine hearings around the country, and the majority will rule. Our prayers are needed so that the refuges are indeed a refuge for wildlife.

Jennifer Maxfield (Fluffy) and Pat Gallagher (Flash) have continued their visits to Kennestone and Georgia Regional, and we look forward to seeing Ken and Jennifer Maxfield on a brief visit to Las Vegas this summer.

CHICAGO: Speaking of visiting Las Vegas, Christian and Hans Mendenhall will be visiting as we go to press. A small advance notice: Rev. Raphael de Peyer will be conducting his annual visit to Chicago in October. Exact dates and program details to follow.

NEW YORK: Fred Pankrac, a member of the Circle of Power in Manhattan, has been conducting prayer fellowship meetings for a couple of months now. Anyone interested should contact him at (212) 427-0096 any day except Sunday, 2-10pm. Our prayers are with you Fred.

GHANA: Sister Grace Asare-Djan reports on a successful trip to Accra, and is returning there at this time. She now has a supply of Faith Cassettes and literature, which we sent her, and has been distributing these. She hopes to help members in Accra start a regular prayer group like her own in Sunyani.
